Dear Dr. Smith:

Congratulations on meeting the standards and requirements for accreditation as a Distance Education School by the Commission on International and Trans-Regional Accreditation (CITA) and the Southern Association of Colleges & Schools (SACS). You may announce your school is an accredited CITA-SACS Distance Education School. A CITA accreditation certificate will be sent to you by Dr. Randy Sinisi as soon as the Commission approves your school at the next Board of Directors meeting. Your SACS accreditation certificate will be presented at the Annual Conference of SACS CASI, December 2006 in Atlanta, Georgia. Beginning July 2006 you may visit our website, www.sacscasi.org and click on Events to obtain registration information.

Again, let me extend congratulations to you and your staff. Should you desire further information or clarification, please do not hesitate to call on me.

Sincerely,

Judy Y. Platt
Associate Vice President for Professional Development

Dr. J. D. Smith, Director
Navy JROTC Distance Education School
Naval Service Training Command
250 Dallas Street, Suite A
Pensacola, FL 32508

Dear Dr. Smith:

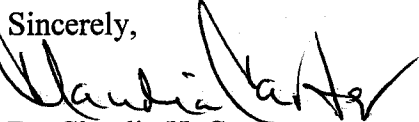

We are pleased to inform you that Navy JROTC Distance Education School will be recommended for accreditation by the Commission on International and Trans-Regional Accreditation (CITA) under the Division of Distance Education. The recommendation for accreditation will be made to the CITA Board of Directors during the meeting scheduled for November 28, 2006. Following favorable Board action, your school will receive a Certificate of CITA Accreditation. You may advertise as an accredited school once you receive the certificate.

Your school will also be recognized as an accredited school by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS). A Certificate of SACS Accreditation will be mailed to your school in January 2007.

The recommendation for accreditation is based on the findings of the accreditation team visit recently conducted to your school. A copy of the accreditation team report is enclosed for your files.

During the self-study, your school selected improvement goals. As an accredited school, your school will implement an improvement plan that addresses those goals. Please make note of the commendations and recommendations provided in the accreditation team report. You may wish to draw upon those ideas as your school strengthens the improvement plan and works toward the goals. You are welcome to contact the Team Leader for further ideas or clarification.

Congratulations on meeting the standards for accreditation. You and your staff are commended for this accomplishment.

Sincerely,

Dr. Claudia H. Carter
